North African Weather Hot And Very Variable

Grimsby Flying Officer Takes Part in Rommel's Rout — Thinks About The Spring-time Back Home And Of Missing The Blossoms.

LARKS IN SKIES

Country is Very Picturesque And Full of Roman Ruins — Weather Like Our Prairie Days And Vancouver Nights.

At least one Grimsby boy had a hand in the routing of Rommel and his forces out of North Africa via the air lanes, he being F.O. R. J. "Bud" Lipsett, main street east. "Bud" is with a squadron of the R.A.F. and his letters home make interesting reading, despite the fact that he tells nothing of the operational work. We print herewith excerpts from his two last epistles:

April 27, 1943.

Dear Mother and Dad,—

I suppose it is springtime back home, and looks as though I miss blossoms once again. The weather here is variable, some days really grand and hot, with clear skies and larks everywhere. Other days the clouds are very low, covering all the peaks, and very often heavy thunderstorms that almost flood the place. The snowy peaks are pretty well finished now, and even some lakes are dry.

I hope to see more of this country as it is very picturesque, with so many Roman ruins that one reads about. Life is different where a tent is your home, and very few places to go. Our evenings are spent talking about home life, so you see I am not leading a very wild life. Luckily enough, some of us get time off on my birthday to celebrate. We have a lot of fun. We don't have a great many celebrations, but what we do have are real parties.

Being on American rations is quite a treat—potatoes, corn beef and wieners. Most of the Yankee food comes in tins. We also get plenty of gum and life savers but little chocolate, and as many American fags as we want. There is really nothing I need unless it is a pipe. The one you sent was a stumpy, burned like a blast furnace, and after all my pains in puffing it and keeping it from breaking, it

Increase In Water Consumed

Almost a Million More Gallons Used Last Month Than In Same Period a Year Ago.

Grimsby Water Commission are at a loss to understand the very great increase in the consumption of water. Owing to the great amount of rainfall during the past three months there has been practically no lawn sprinkling or garden watering, yet water consumption for the past month was almost one million gallons higher than the same period last year.

It has been found necessary to keep the pumps operating several hours a day more than in any previous year in order to keep up the supply and the Commissioners cannot understand why this should be in such a wet year.

Owing to the constant muddy state of the water close to shore, it has not been possible, as yet, to have a diver examine the intake to ascertain possible winter damage. Repairs, if necessary, will be undertaken at the earliest possible date.

Grimsby Cadets At Bolton Camp

Grimsby High School Cadets, under Carl King, left early on Monday morning for Bolton Camp, where they will undergo training for the next two weeks. Capt. P. V. Smith, has been at Bolton for the past two weeks, where he is acting as Quartermaster of the camp. He will remain there until July 30th.

During the six weeks that the camp will operate over 3,000 cadets from various parts of Ontario will take training along very similar lines to that given the men in the Active Army.

Grimsby Cadets did not have their new uniforms when they left but will be completely outfitted at camp.

Farmers Urged To Plant More Crop

If There Ever Was a Time When We Needed Every Ounce of Food, it Will be Next Winter.

Farmers of the Niagara district were urged last week to make every effort to plant some useful food crop to prevent possible famine next year. Walter Sheppard, reeve of Niagara township, who is also chairman of the Lincoln County war production committee, spoke at the meeting of the county council and stressed the utmost urgency of winning every ounce of good value out of the land this year.

"Many farmers are discouraged by the lateness of the season," he told the county council. "I have heard of a number of farmers who

Drove Engines In Queer Places

John Oliver at 90 Years of Age And Blind Still Operates Steam Heating Boilers.

A most interesting visitor to Grimsby on Saturday last was John Oliver, a resident of the Gyrro Home for Blind, Hamilton, who accompanied Jas. A. Jackson on a visit to old friends and relatives in town.

Mr. Oliver is a very agile man and retains all his faculties except his sight, despite the fact that he will be 90 years of age on July 19th, having been born in Scotland, Berkshire, Eng. in 1853.

At the age of 14 years he was apprenticed to a railway company and began his career wiping engines and became a fireman at 18. In 1889 after having received his engineer's certificate he went to Durban, Natal province, South Africa and worked there for many

Trinity Hall Made An Ideal Temporary Hospital—Beds And Equipment Supplied by Metal Craft Company — Blood Tests Made.

100 DONORS

Food Supplies Donated — Three Local Doctors And 12 Nurses do Excellent Job — Mobile Clinic Officially Presented by Mrs. Dr. Sinclair.

Grimsby again sets the pace.

This time it is the setting up and operation of a temporary Blood Donor Clinic. A temporary hospital, so to speak, that cannot be equalled by any other town in Canada.

Yesterday afternoon in a little less than three hours, Grimsby's three local doctors and 12 local registered nurses handled 100 blood donors in an atmosphere that was absolutely perfect down to the last detail.

The temporary hospital was set up in Trinity hall and not an item of any kind was overlooked. When a donor entered the building via the side door he or she first had a drink of water, then entered the reception room, where names and addresses, etc. were registered and the temperatures taken.

Upon entering the next room a small drop of blood was taken and compared with blood test charts. Next the case history of the donor was taken and then they proceeded to the main body of the hall, which had been turned into a complete seven bed hospital, replete with linen cabinets, medicine cabinets, table, and sterilisers, all supplied by the Metal Craft Co. and set up by their workmen.

The patient reclined upon a bed, bared his arm and the doctor went to work. Up until the time of leaving the bed a nurse was constantly on duty. After giving of the blood the next move was to a resting couch where the patient reclined for a few minutes under the watchful eye of a nurse and then proceeded to the dining room where

Proxy Pointers Worth Knowing

There is no Age Limit on An Active Service Voter — Proxies Must be Confirmed by Revising Officer.

According to the Ontario Election Act, all Naval, Military and Air Force members on duty outside the Province of Ontario on the date of an election, vote by proxy. This means that a man from Ontario, in any other province of Canada at the time, uses the proxy ballot the same as the man who is overseas.

Any agent receiving a proxy must have it confirmed by the Revising Officer for the Electoral District before he can use it.

There is no age limit for an Active Service voter. He can be 18 or 50 years of age.

No agent can hold the proxy of more than one voter unless he (or she) is a husband, wife, brother, sister, parent or child.

Read the advertisement of the Revising Officer for the Electoral District of Lincoln in this issue of The Independent.

NEW TOWN DIRECTORY

The 1943 revised edition of the Grimsby Town Directory is now off the press and will be distributed this week and next.

Much time and care has been spent on the Directory this year and we believe that it is the most complete record of residents and residences yet produced.

This is the seventh edition of the Directory to be published by The Independent and it is hoped that it will serve as a useful publication to Grimsby citizens.

John's Counsel To Christians

2 John 4:1-11; 3 John 8:12.

GOLDEN TEXT

Beloved, I wish above all things that you may prosper and be in health, even as thy soul prospereth. —2 John 8:12.

An Introduction to The Lesson

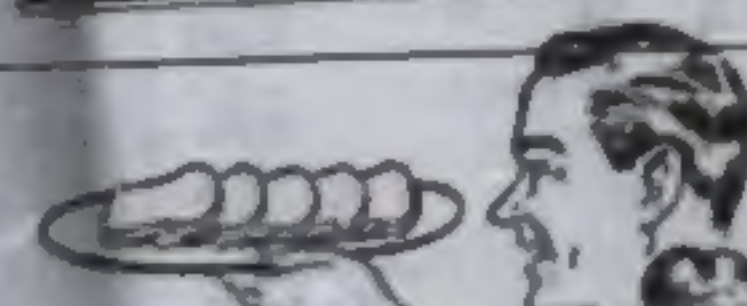

John's second and third epistles have a character all their own, and help us greatly as we seek to understand the condition of the early churches. The second epistle instructs believers how to behave towards those who teach false doctrines and seek to pervert simple believers by their erroneous theories. The third epistle tells us how we are to treat those who come preaching the Gospel and instructing believers as to the truths of the new dispensation of grace. Grace is the unmerited favor of God by which He pardons us who believe the Gospel, which means the good news that our Lord Jesus Christ died for our sins and rose again for our justification (1st Corinthians 15). We need both of these epistles today as much as in the early days of the church. Taken together, they will show us how to act consistently in accord with the faith once for all committed to the saints (Jude 1-4).

The Heart of the Lesson

If the heart is rightly disposed towards Christ, and we confess the truths as to His person, there will always be real fellowship. We are to receive all whom He has received, to the Glory of God. On the other hand, we are called to separation from evil doctrine as well as from evil fellowship. Fellowship with those who deny the truth as to Christ is to be unprofitable to Him. To do this is to partake of their evil deeds. We cannot escape responsibility for complicity with evil if we by our own presence, or our money, help or endorse that which is opposed to Christ.

Britain continues to save money for the War Effort. Liverpool's Wings for Victory Week reached a total of $16,799,000 ($74,419,775).

Only 3.6% of all freight cars owned by American railroads were in need of repairs in March, the lowest number on record.

It's Iris Time

On the left side of the garden path, as you go down towards the Forty, is a bed of Iris about the size of a building lot. The mass of royal colours gleam in the sun and fill the eyes with delight. Here and there among them is a bright rose Pimpernel Daisy.

The Purple Iris is the French Pimpernel Daisy, called by the English "Fleur de Luce." It was introduced by the English in 1121-1180, from old time. Flower de Luce, called the plant "Fleur de Luce," whose name was then written Luce, finally Fleur de Luce.

Thomas Tusser who flourished in the days of good Queen Bess and whose book of poems, "One Hundredth of Flowers," ran into many editions, called it "Flower de Luce in his list of flowers for windows and pots. He said that the root 'stamped plaster wise, doth take away the blowenness or blackness' of bruises, —a remedy still in use in country homes both in New England and Ontario. For well over a hundred years this beautiful plant has been growing in old and new gardens on both sides of the border.

The white Iris from which powderedorris-root is produced was a sacred flower of the Greeks. In Greek mythology, Iris, daughter of Thaumas and the Ocean nymph Electra, personified the rainbow and messenger of the gods.

The Iris is one of a large family that gives us many other garden favourites, as gladiolus, crocus, freesia and blue-eyed grass. One of the loveliest varieties, and the earliest to bloom, is the old-fashioned Dwarf Iris, called "Blue Flag."

Mirror Of The Soul

The Editor of that useful and entertaining little publication, The Narrator, enters a plea for words "apt and gracious."

"SAVE WORDS," she exhorts—"we are indebted to the Preacher for a timely warning! His reference to our extravagant use of words has set us thinking. Isn't it true that we have made some of the most profound, or most useful words of our language mere caricatures of themselves through extravagant use? Just as we have been guilty of wasting food, wasting energy, and over-indulgence in many things, we have been carelessly desecrating our language and are now poverty-stricken conversationalists. It is shocking when we come to a realization of our dependence upon stock phrases and slang expressions.

"There is hope that the school-girl will grow-up shortly and leave behind her the childish 'or else' and that the 'teen-age boy will stop being an edition of the stammering, unreal character of Henry Aldrich and awaken to the wealth and beauty of his language heritage, but it is discouraging to hear men and women endowed with ordinary intelligence tied up to 'O.K.', 'could be' and 'I'll be seeing you', and a few other supposedly modern radio-born illegitimates.

"Save words—perhaps we are wrong in saying save and should say treasure them for use where and when they will serve us best, avoiding the habit of the enthusiasts, or mock-enthusiasts, who because of lax minds are inclined to rate almost everything as marvellous or affect disapproval with such words as awful, putrid, disgusting leaving stupendous, original, unique for what is at all out of the ordinary."

Publius Syrus, writing about 42 B.C., says speech is the mirror of the soul: as a man speaks so is he.

Must We Feed Mosquitoes?

So tolerant are we of that vicious little racketeer, the mosquito, it almost looks as if, like his human counterpart, he's "got something on us." We boast of the number of bites we have and display our inflamed wounds as if we were entitled to sympathetic praise for tamely submitting ourselves to be "a victim of fat-gorged mosquitoes," as the Emperor Hadrian put it nearly 1800 years ago.

If we had to pay a tax for every mosquito bite inflicted on us we would quickly take up arms to annihilate the mosquito population.

A few years ago the battle cry was heard, "Swat the Fly!" We did, and did it hard, and although the pest was by no means eliminated the result was that many diseases known to be carried by the common house fly were markedly reduced.

Public opinion was roused and educated to combat the house fly. Then it went to sleep again. Every once in a while, when it feels a twinge, —maybe it's a mosquito bite, or maybe it's only unemployment, wartime strikes, or juvenile delinquency,—it wakes up with one eye, squawks peevishly, "The Government ought to 'do something' about it," then turns over and goes to sleep again.

While waiting for that much maligned and misunderstood body, the Government, to "do something" about it, there's plenty we can all do to eliminate most evils: clean up our own backyards and cellars. Is

Sharing Living Space

"Where to live" is foremost in the minds of thousands of Canada's willing war workers. In industrial centres across the country, newcomers are having difficulty in finding accommodation. In many cities Housing Registries have been set up. A paid position with the help of volunteers provided through Women's Voluntary Services works in the various registries. Above two W.V.S. workers are checking cards, and entering information in the files of the Toronto Housing Registry.

a literal sense, attack the mosquito by depriving him of breeding grounds, turning upsidedown cans, bottles, buckets or anything that holds water, covering the old rain water barrel, and filling in low places in the lawn or garden where water lies. There are sprays that can be used with fair to good results.

Mosquito bites can be serious as well as annoying, and everybody knows a remedy that sometimes works. Your druggist will suggest a few more, and the doctor can supplement both.

Discourage the mosquito, and never let up until he's a memory of the past!

Royal Canadian Academy and Handicrafts

Annual Meetings of Canada

For the first time since the Royal Canadian Academy was established, in 1882, space in the Annual Academy Show for 1943 will be allotted to Handicrafts. These will be assembled at Montreal from all over the Dominion by the Canadian Handicrafts Guild for the Guild's own Show, and a selection will be made by an Academy Jury for the Academy's own Show which will be held in October at Quebec and then transferred to Montreal in November. In addition to the usual crafts, special prizes are being offered by the Guild for a Victory Banner, suitable for display in churches and reproducing the Armorial Bearings of Canada in embroidery, applique, painted silk or woven tapestry. At the suggestion of the Academy, a new category has been introduced of Corporate Exhibits which may be submitted by such corporate bodies as ecclesiastical orders, convents and schools of art and handicraft administered under provincial authority and like institutions, the exhibits to be submitted by the head of the institution or school. These corporate exhibits may include designs for craftwork as well as executed works. The Canadian Handicrafts Guild, which has its headquarters in Montreal, was incorporated in 1906 and has branches or affiliated Societies in each of the Provinces of Canada. It was delegated last year by the Interdepartmental Committee of the Federal Government at Ottawa to assemble an Exhibit of Canadian Handicrafts for the Women's International Exposition of Arts and Industries at Madison Square Garden, New York. A number of the craftworkers in Canada have won international recognition, such as General Lent, of Calgary, for her embroidery; Doris LeCocq, of British Columbia, for glazed pottery exhibited at the Royal Academy in London, and Kjeld and Erica Dreihmann, potters of Mossburn, New Brunswick. The Canadian Guild of Potters had an excellent exhibition of the work of its members recently in the Toronto Art Gallery. The Province of Quebec has been a strong supporter of the renaissance in handicraft, and has organized weaving in rural districts so extensively that there are now 60,000 looms and 100,000 spinning wheels in use in that Province.

Information For HouseholdersWASTE IN MEAT TO BE RECIFIED

"The sole purpose of meat rationing is to make meat a meat available for the United Nations, the armed forces and other active participants in the war. Accordingly anything in the nature of waste of meat is directly contrary to the purpose of rationing and will be rectified," said K. W. H., for Food Administration of the War-time Prices and Trade Board.
He was commenting upon reports from some parts of Canada that under the prevailing meat coupon system there has been reduced buying of sausage, brisquets, plates and flanks with resultant piling up of these meats in some retailers' stocks.

COUPON SHEETS MUST BE SIGNED

Housewives are reminded that dealers can refuse to accept coupons for rationed commodities from an unsigned ration book. Ration regulations state clearly that each page of coupons must be signed by the person to whom the book is made out. This is meant to protect the consumer as well as the butcher and the latter is quite within his right in refusing to accept coupons from a sheet of coupons which does not bear the proper signature.

NO EXTRA RATIONS FOR SUMMER PICNICS

There will be no special allowances of rationed goods for use in connection with summer picnics.

field days, children's picnics and like events. It has been decided by the Ration Administration, unless catering in connection with them is handled by public caterers.

If the catering is organized by individuals, clubs, service clubs and so on, rationed commodities will have to be provided by members of these organizations from their own ration coupons. Ration officers point out that the supply situation does not warrant any special consideration being shown summer gatherings of this type.

STORES CLOSED
MONDAY, JULY 5th

By mutual agreement the retail merchants of Grimsby will close their stores and celebrate Dominion Day on Monday, July 5th, thus allowing the merchants and their clerks to enjoy the long weekend. Customers are asked to govern themselves accordingly.

Empire Loyalists Visit Grimsby

Now for five years have the members of the United Empire Loyalist Association of St. Catharines come to Grimsby for their summer meeting. This pleasant gathering being held each year at the home of the Rev. and Mrs. Neil M. Leckie on Korman Avenue.

The name of this dwelling, taken from the armorial bearings of the Scottish city of Aberdeen, is "B'n Accord," and these annual gatherings present an opportunity for the exercise of hospitality in keeping with this title.

Between thirty and forty persons came from the County town, and a number of others of the same loyalist descent joined the company from the immediate neighborhood. Special regret was expressed over the absence of Mrs. R. H. Hughes, the historian of the Society, the death of her husband having hindered this esteemed lady from attending, and a suitable message was sent to the bereaved family.

Canon James of St. Thomas Anglican Church, St. Catharines is the presiding officer of the club, but on account of an engagement this gentleman was late in arriving, and the chair was taken by Mr. J. Haynes, and the lecturer of the day was Professor Vincent W. Jackson of Grimsby, himself a member of one of the loyalist families of the Niagara Peninsula. The address consisted of a review of several features of the situation in the world caused by the war. A resemblance was noticed between the exiled governments of Holland, Norway, and other countries, as these are now established in England, and the condition of the Loyalists who came from the United States to Canada, at the time of the American Revolution, and the hope was expressed that the outcome would be as happy.

Professor Jackson devoted a part of his address to the program which is being made by the English language in taking its place as a world-wide medium of speech, and as a digression from his main theme, mention was made of the quaint method of calculation used by some in the fixing of the year in which the present war would close, and a federation of the world be brought into existence, Lord Tennyson's famous passage from Locksley Hall being aptly quoted.

At the close of the address, a suitable vote of thanks was offered to the speaker, and the company adjourned to the spacious lawn, on which preparation had been made for service of refreshments, at the close of which a number of those present contributed their remarks on various topics appropriate to the occasion, and the purpose of the Society, Canon James gracefully taking the duty of Chairman. A collection was taken, and the sum obtained was devoted to the fund for the relief of sufferers in Greece.

BREVITIES

EVENTS and TOPICS of the WEEK in TABLOID

Get set for the Lions Carnival, July 8 and 9.

The Bowls way closes for the season on Saturday night.

Holiday hours will be observed at the Post office on Thursday, July 1st, Dominion Day.

More automobiles have been stolen in St. Catharines, to date this year, than were stolen all last year.

The Independent will observe Dominion Day on Monday, July 5th, along with the retail merchants.

Councillor Howard Ingelhart and Matt Fisher spent the weekend in the Georgian Bay district and brought home a goodly supply of pickered, some of them weighing up to eight pounds.

Natural gas users in Grimsby and district are warned that there will be an interruption of gas supply on Dominion Day, July 1st, from one until four p.m., while repairs are being made on the main gas line.

Miss Alice Neale is the winner of the Clarence Lewis trophy for the high score for the season, at The Bowls way for boys and girls under 16 years of age. Her high score was 331. Reg. Turner won the A. Hewson and Son trophy for the open high score of the year with 271. The fun is all over until next September.

Many fruit growers who lost heavily through peach and cherry trees dying this year have planted vegetables in an effort to make up for fruit crop loss. While some have already torn out the dead trees and replaced them with young stock, others now claim that it is impossible to purchase young peach trees. One nursery business, it is reported has advised that it will not have peach trees for sale again until 1945.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reported last week that final census figures showed that single persons constituted 54.1 per cent of Canada's population of 11,596,655 in 1941. The Bureau said married persons accounted for 41.3 per cent of the Dominion's population in 1941, widowed 4.6 per cent and divorced 0.1 per cent. In 1931, 37.4 per cent of the population was enumerated as single and only 38.3 per cent as married.

Two old gates of the first Welland Canal, which have lain in their watery grave near the Taylor & Bates Brewery, St. Catharines, for more than a century, have come to the fore to impede modern progress. The section dredge of the Canadian Dredge and Dock Co., which is depending the old canal below Burgoynes Bridge, struck a snag last week. It turned out to be a pair of gates which were not charted in canal records.

Little Donald Lambert, suffered painful cuts and bruises about the face, on Monday afternoon. He was running home from school and collided with a fence.

For the second year in succession A. E. Cole had the first green peas on Hamilton Market, last Saturday. He only had one six quart basket but they brought the fancy price of 15 cents a pint.

All retail stores in Grimsby will be closed for business on Monday, July 5th. The merchants have agreed among themselves to close on that date instead of on Thursday, July 1st. All customers are asked to make a note of this and do their shopping so as not to run short on the Monday.

M. M. Robinson, director of the Ontario food distribution council, said Saturday about 1,000,000 peach trees in the Niagara peninsula may have been killed last winter. As a result, there will not be more than 30 or 40 per cent of the average peach crop. There also was a large winter killing of strawberries and a large decrease in acreage, he said.

On Dominion Day, July 1st, A. F. Hawks will have been a resident of Grimsby for 64 years, coming here on that date 1879 with his family, his father Rev. Hawks taking over the Pastorate of Grimsby Methodist church. He was only a young lad then and remembers very distinctly playing around in the ruins of the old Groat foundry which had burned down two weeks previous to his arrival.

The death occurred in Hamilton General Hospital on Tuesday morning of Wm. A. Dixon, a well known Hamilton resident and a popularly known throughout the Fruit Belt, where he worked for some years as a fruit inspector. He was also well known in trotting horse circles. He was a brother of Capt. Archie Dixon, former resident of Grimsby and the manager of the famous Peach Kings hockey team.

Continuations From Page One

are going to summer-fallow their land—just plow it up and leave it unplanted. This is a serious condition. If there ever was a time when we needed every bit of food we could get, it will be next winter, and farmers should use their land to plant later crops rather than letting their land go unused. Now is the time to think about it, rather than next winter when food is scarce.

He stated that some varieties of corn can still be planted and yield a valuable food crop. The government is urging farmers to plant large quantities of white beans, which have high food value. Deputy Reeve R. G. Dawson of Niagara township added that soy beans, which are gaining considerable fame for their high food value, should also be planted.

WILL USE PART

on the job was increased from $11,000 to $25,000, and the contents from $1,000 to $2,500. The registry office, which had not been insured, will now have coverage of $30,000 on the buildings and $7,500 on contents.

Redecoration of the office formerly occupied by the Children's Aid Society in the court house was approved. The St. Catharines detachment of provincial police, which were granted use of the office at the May session of council, will move in shortly. It was also decided to call for tenders for painting the exterior of the Lincoln County Home.

A resolution from the council of Niagara Township was endorsed. Niagara felt that due to weather conditions, grain crops in Ontario would be short this year, and the council petitioned the federal Department of Agriculture to move grain from Western Canada to Ontario for feed. The department was asked to pay the cost of transportation and the cost of the grain, selling it to farmers on the deferred payment plan.

MOVE TONS EARTH

during the operation. A trench was cut in the escarpment into which is fitted a 16½-foot penstock used to convey the water down the face of the rock cliff to the turbine below.

Another particularly difficult excavation was the cutting of a head-race canal through solid rock from the handworks at the top of the escarpment to Lake Gibson. Some 170,000 tons of rock and 125,000 tons of earth were removed from this 2,900-foot channel.

A fleet of tractor-drawn dump trucks, mounted on caterpillar treads, was used to move the rock and earth. Much of it served to protect the enlarged earth dykes on Lake Gibson, while the rest of it found its way into necessary works in the 12-mile creek.

Albany Waterbed Help
Waters from the Albany watershed, 1,000 miles away, will be used to supplement and increase the flow of water into the Welland canal, which feeds Lake Gibson, the reservoir for the Decew plant.

Otto Holden, chief hydraulic engineer of the Hydro commission, explaining how this was accomplished, said the Long Lac diversion brings water into Lake Superior water which normally flowed into the James bay. This was accomplished by means of a dam on the Kenogami river it takes part of Long lake and by excavation of a six-mile channel through the high, of land at the north end of this lake. The Ogish diversion, expected to be completed this summer, will feed into Lake Superior water originally destined for James bay. The combined flow from these two diversions will facilitate the generation of additional power at any of the sites between Lake Nipigon and the mouth of the St. Lawrence river including Decew.

A feature of the new development is the giant penstock that will feed the water into the single-runner turbine located in the pit of the power-house. Manufactured in Fort Erie, it is made up of 75 circular rings, riveted together to form a continuous pipe. It weighs 800,000 pounds and will be encased in cement when finally completed.

Engineers claim the pipe will last indefinitely, the running water preventing corrosion from the inside and the cement covering protecting it from without.

The unit now nearing completion is the first of three that may possibly be installed at a later date. A draught tube for the second unit—it also will produce 65,000 horsepower—has been partially completed.

Eventually it is hoped to retire the old power-house from service.

This plant, which contains nine units, was taken over by the Hydro commission in 1930 and has been outmoded since it was first constructed at the start of this century.

DROVE ENGINES

years as an engine driver. During the Boer war he drove supply and armored trains for the British and was within a quarter of a mile of Winston Churchill when he was captured.

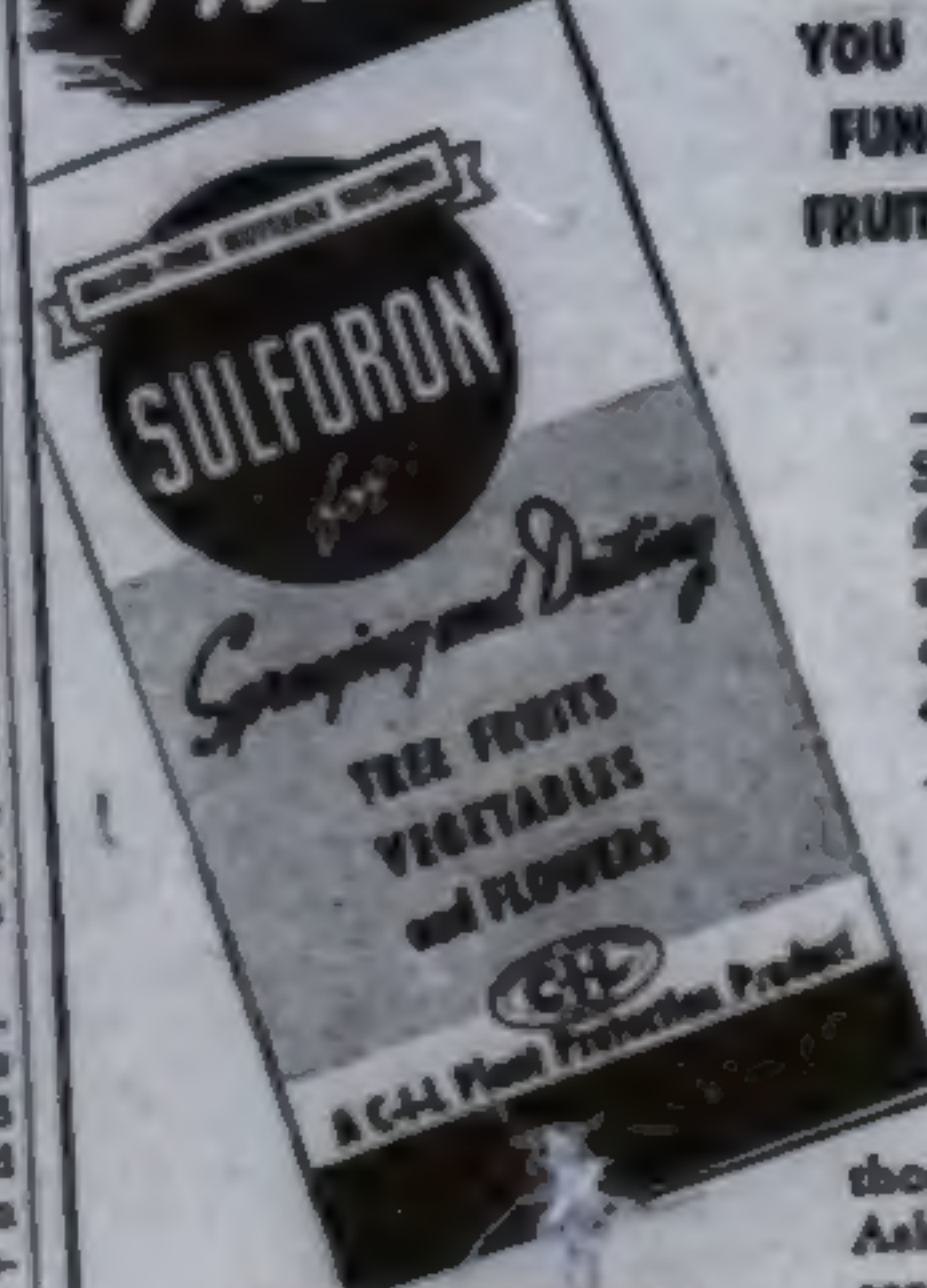

After the war the wanderlust struck him and in succeeding years he worked for the Cape of Good Hope Government Railways; The Assam-Bengal Railway Co. of India; Burma Railway Co. where his pay was 180 rupees a month, or about $75, also an allowance of the same amount; Ceylon Government Railways where the pay was as high as 2,880 rupees a month.

In 1912 he landed in Canada, worked for the C.P.R. six months and went back to Ceylon. In 1918 he returned to England and joined the Merchant Marine, serving on the "Sunhill," "Vivid III," "Lobster" and "Cyclops" ships for the balance of the war and then in 1919 went to Russia with the Archangel River Expedition.

He came back to Canada in 1925 and went farming which occupation he followed until a few years ago when his sight failed him completely.

For the past four years despite his handicap he has operated the steam heating boilers at the Gyro Home.

suddenly disappeared. Grimsby, I guess.

Before I came out here I received two copies of Readers' Digest. Expect others to follow in near future. They certainly are the real thing, for reading material is very scarce in these parts.

This evening a Canadian Padre was around to visit us and see if we needed anything, so we are really looked after quite well.

Remember me to everyone and tell them all to write. Tell them to write in English, French or Arabic and I'll answer them all. Remember me to P. V. Smith and staff. Tell Don Awde I'll be writing him shortly. When you see Mrs. Aldrick, please tell her to give my best regards to Bob and hope he is back soon.

May 1st Well, to-day at long last I have received some mail. Letters from Canada and England, one from Cap Foster, but no parcels. No doubt they will catch up with me before long. Only yesterday I mailed letters to friends and gave them back for not writing.

I can't tell you anything of my work, but will tell you all about it in three years' time, but then we should be home before that. Your radio will tell you what's doing, and you will have to guess the rest. The weather here is getting hotter each week. Prairie days and Vancouver nights.

Sorry to hear of Doug's illness and hope he is O.K. again and making good progress, and will make a flyer yet. Hope your severe winter has not affected the fruit crop too badly.

Will close and try to answer some of these letters. Trusting you are all as well and enjoying life as much as I am. Will write again soon.

My crew are fine and enjoying themselves as much as possible. Love and cheeria, Bud.

HAPPY TIMES

members. Cigarettes are greatly appreciated by all the local boys and we receive them frequently.

With the shipping being lost like it is at the present time in the Atlantic we consider ourselves very lucky to get them.

At the present time we are having some fine spring weather for a change. It hasn't rained here for a month and that's very unusual at this time of year in this country.

Recently we have been very busy on manoeuvres that kept us very busy but at the present time we are having a so-called rest.

Things haven't changed here in the last few months and all the local boys that I have met are fine and well.

Sincerely,
Gordon Craig.

Just received 300 cigarettes and thanks a lot. The last time I wrote and told you my change of address but maybe you didn't get it but will try and make sure this time. I am lucky to get them this time as I believe a lot have gone down. Thanks again.
Pte. E. W. Curwell.

Thanks for both parcels of cigarettes. Mail is scarce these days. How are you all keeping these days? I hope O.K. Best regards to you and all members of the Chamber of Commerce and citizens of Grimsby.
Pte. W. E. Farrow.

With kind thoughts and hearty thanks for your generosity.
Signalman, G. Taylor-Munro

Received the cigarettes once again. I appreciate your kindness in thinking of the boys over here. The cigarettes are very acceptable, for, as you know, they are very scarce over here where troops are concerned.

It keeps our spirits up to know that people back home are looking out for us.

Thanking you once again I remain,
Yours truly,
Maurice Marlowe.

Many thanks for the 300 cigarettes received last week. I can't say how much I appreciate them. They always seem to come just when a fellow is on his last package. Thank you again.
Pte. G. Neale.

Received cigarettes O.K., always greatly appreciated. Best of luck and good wishes to you all. Every thing under control here.
Sgt. A. P. Clark.

I thank you very much for the cigarettes. I can assure you that they are always appreciated not only by myself but my pals, who sometimes have none.
Cpl. W. MacFarlane.

Thanks a million for kind and very timely gift of cigarettes just received. They certainly mean a great deal to us over here. We are enjoying a very early spring. The weather has been almost perfect. Will probably pay for it later on though. I wish you continued success to your organization in the future. Thanks a lot again for cigarettes.

Yours very sincerely,
Sgt. J. Rummery.

Received the cigarettes today sent by the Chamber of Commerce. Thanks a lot for thinking of me. One gets rather cold and wet on these schemes and a cigarette sure comes in handy at such times. Thanks again and the best of everything for you and the members of the Chamber of Commerce.
Sgt. Lionel Lyburner.

Thanks a lot for the gift of cigarettes, of course that goes to the Chamber as well. Our mail has been very slow in coming for the past few months which makes your gift more than welcome.

Sincerely,
Sgt. E.D. Knight

Thanks very much for cigarettes. Our Geo. F. Allan

Cigarettes arrived March 8/43. Many thanks. We still appreciate cigarettes and your thoughts as much as ever.

Sincerely yours,

Just a few lines to let you know I have received another parcel of cigarettes which I sure do appreciate a lot.

In January and February we lost smokes. I don't know whether you sent any or not. The weather sure is swell over here now. It is just like summer. We will be going swimming one of these days soon.

Well I'll say cheerio for now. Gratefully yours,
H. G. Warner.

Wish you to convey my deepest "thanks" to the members of the Grimsby C. of C. for this gift of cigarettes. I certainly appreciate them.

The folks in Grimsby certainly have done a marvellous job in every way. They are doing all they can for us and we really do appreciate it. It won't be forgotten! We are anxiously awaiting the time when we can throttle Hitler and return home again.

Sincerely,
Pte. S. E. Martin.

Again it is I who thank you and the people of Grimsby for your kindness.

Sincerely,
J. W. Hilda.

Priorities For Telephone Calls

New System Comes Into Effect July 1—Step is Necessary to Assure Speedy Completion of Essential Calls.

In order to meet the situation created by the steadily mounting volume of long distance telephone calls, a system of priorities is to become effective on July 1 next. This step is being taken to assure speedy completion of calls for essential purposes.

The use of priorities on war-urgent long distance telephone calls simply permits calls vital to the war effort to obtain preferred handling when lines are crowded.

"Since priorities will be used only in cases of greatest emergency, there will be no undue interference with long distance service to the general public," commented Mr. Price, Bell Telephone manager here.

"Although the average speed of out-of-town telephone connections has been pretty well maintained, there have been some delays during busy hours to and from important war centres," Mr. Price said. "Because of the necessity for conserving critical materials, it is no longer possible to extend long distance facilities to keep pace with the increasing volume of calls."

"Therefore, the Long Distance Priority Plan establishes procedures whereby urgent war messages may obtain preferred handling. The use of priorities is confined to persons charged with responsibilities relating directly to the war program, such as government officials, the armed forces, war organizations, and agencies essential to public health and safety. Not all calls placed by these persons will be entitled to priority treatment, but only those which require immediate completion for national defence or to safeguard life and property in time of emergency."

"Ordinary long distance calls will continue to be made in the usual manner, but telephone users are still being asked not to make out-of-town calls unless absolutely necessary, and to make even those essential calls, if possible, at other than the busy hours."

BOY SCOUT WINS EMPIRE MEDAL

The youngest winner of the British Empire Medal is a British Boy Scout, John David Grix, aged 15, who for two nights rode his bicycle through heavy bombing to carry out his civil defense duties, and also direct firemen and rescue parties to devastated areas of the city. His award was given for "courage and determination during the heavy raids on Norwich."

Butcher Need Not Handle Coupons

All Law Calls For "Coupons Must be Torn Off in Presence of Storekeeper."

Little smears of bacon grease and hamburger globules may be precious tidbits inside a wrapper, but clinging to milady's ration book . . . they're definitely not wanted . . . Especially when that ration book is dropped into a lady's handbag.

Butchers, with all their wartime problems, find they often just haven't time to wipe their hands after handling every piece of meat before tearing coupons from their customers' ration books.

War-time Prices and Trade Board spokesmen point out that butchers do not need to handle their customers' ration books at all. As indicated on the back of the ration book "Coupons must be torn off the sheet in the presence of the storekeeper," so the shopping housewives are legally permitted to remove their meat coupons with their own dainty fingers just as long as the butcher is present to view the operation . . . It is of course, against the law for storekeepers to accept single, loose coupons not torn off by themselves or in their presence, according to Prices Board Officials.

A Bad Mistake

Last week The Independent, unconsciously and unintentionally, made a very bad error.

In our story of Sgt. Hugh Anderson receiving the decoration of the D.F.M. we stated that he was a son of the late Peter and Mrs. Anderson.

What we should have said was that he was a son of the late Harry and Mrs. Anderson.

This error was caused more from force of habit than anything else. The nick name of the late Harry Anderson was "Pete" and many of us referred to him as Peter. Incidentally his little grandson, a nephew of Sgt. Hugh is named Peter, so between the two instances The Independent got all tangled up.

"Ventura", Light Bomber In Action With The R.A.F.

Lockheed "Ventura" light bombers were first officially mentioned as being in service with the R.A.F. after the heavy daylight raid on the Philips Radio Works at Eindhoven, Holland, on 6.12.42. The "Ventura" is a development of the Hudson—first American-built aircraft to go into operational service with the R.A.F. in this war—but it is faster and has several points of difference. The most characteristic feature of the "Ventura" is the design of the underpart of the fuselage, the rear of which is stepped up rather like that of a flying boat. It has two Pratt and Whitney twin wasp engines and carries a heavier bomb load than the Hudson. It is manned by a crew of 4. Picture shows: Head-on view of the Lockheed "Ventura".
